

- Is the Research Funding Agreement, as found on the NASFM website, an example of the agreement that would be presented upon award to the awardee with NASFM and NASFM Foundation as sponsors? If it is an example of the agreement presented upon award, would it be open to negotiation for certain clauses?
 - No, the Research Funding Agreement is a document for use between the NASFM Foundation and project sponsors. A separate agreement will be developed meeting the needs of both the awardee and the NASFM Foundation.
- What are the narrative formatting requirements (specific sections, page limit, font, spacing, types of allowable supplementary documentation, etc.)?
 - There are no formatting requirements or limits associated with this proposal.
- Is there a minimum/maximum cost range?
 - There is no cost range associated with this proposal.
- How detailed should the budget be and in what format?
 - Please use your standard format for the budget providing sufficient detail to enable NASFM Foundation staff to understand at a minimum; personnel, travel, fixed overhead, tuition reimbursement and associated costs. The NASFM Foundation will seek to understand the proposed costs for each component involved in successfully completing the research project.
- The RFP says the submitting entity is responsible for travel to meetings – can that travel be included in the grant budget?
 - Yes, all travel expenses can be included within the proposal budget.
